I have this macro, which moves some text on a form from one location to another. Is there any way the macro could check if the text it's moving is inside a text box, or inside a label, or inside a radio button, or inside a check box. Other than writing a long if statement to check the type of control. Is there any way i can add some code to the macro which will tell the macro where the control is? I have tried the following, but it doesn't work, maybe 1cdb36666d
